CITY AND STATE NEWS.

New Advertisements.—Crosby & Litchford, Auctioneers—Mortgage sale Monday next.

Wm. H. Harrison, Mayor—Notice concerning hogs.

Frank I. Wilson—A new Book entitled "The Battle of Great Bethel."

Family Marketing.—There seems to be an upward rather than a downward tendency in leading articles brought to our market. Fresh shoat sold yesterday at $4, beef $2 25 to $2 50, and butter from $6 to $7 a pound. Bacon sells in the market by the quantity at $6. Spring chickens are from $3 to $5 each, while grown fowls sell at from $5 to $7. Sweet Potatoes are worth $10, and Sorghum Molasses $12 to $15 a gallon. Nor do we believe that any of these things will be cheaper than now.

No Houses.—For the benefit of refugees and others in pursuit of houses we will state that we do not know of a vacant house in the city of Raleigh that is fit to live in. We suppose there will be considerable changes about the first of January, but there are now enough people here to occupy all the houses.

We regret to learn that on the occasion of the raid in Mitchell County, some two or three weeks ago, D. M. Young, Esq., member of the Legislature from that county, was stripped of everything in the way of property but his land, which of course the thieves could not carry away. They took from him 8 negroes, destroyed much other property as they could find, and stole nearly all his wearing apparel. Mr. Young is a young gentleman of fine character, very popular with the people of his county, and we truly sympathize with him in his losses. But if the war is to be continued thousands who have not yet felt it will be served in the same way.

Death of a Raleigh Boy.—The Standard says:

We record with deep regret the death of George A. Hood, a member of the Raleigh Rifles, aged 21 years. George was an apprentice in the Standard office in May, 1861, when he volunteered in the Rifles, before he was eighteen years of age. He was with that company through all its battles and hardships, acquiting himself as a good soldier, until the last invasion of the Northern Territory, when he was wounded by a shell near Washington City, and, lingering some days he died in the hands of the enemy and was decently interred in or near that City. George was a good boy. We never knew a more faithful, teachable, obedient apprentice. He has poured out his young blood, a willing sacrifice on the altar of his country. We have reason to believe from letters received from him, and from our knowledge of his walk and conversation, that he was prepared for that great change which awaits us all.—Peace to his ashes, and honored be the memory of the gallant and upright soldier boy.

An Alligator Eats a Man.—A correspondent of the Wilmington Journal writing from Onslow county on the 11th inst. says:

On the 4th of this month I found in a creek, known as "Hadnot's Creek," the body of a man cut off at his lower ribs, all below that being gone. I got all the people together that I could, took it up and had it buried. It had been in the water some time, as it smelled very offensive. No information could be ascertained as to where it came from.

This morning, while talking with Mr. E W. Pelletier, I heard an alligator catch one of my hogs; I caught my gun and ran to the scene of action, and found the alligator with a large hog of mine in the creek. I shot and killed him. On getting him out, found him to be one of the largest I had ever seen; he was also uncommonly full. We cut him up and found in his stomach the foot and leg and the lower part of the trunk of a man. These parts doubtless belonged to the same body of which the upper parts have already been found. Where the man came from, or who he was, I have no means of ascertaining. It is believed that he was a deserter from our side or from the enemy's, and was caught by the alligator while trying to swim the creek.

We also found the hoofs and leg bones of a cow, doubtless the remains of a cow which lately disappeared from my pasture.

THE EXILES FROM ATLANTA.

The condition of the poor refugees and exiles from Atlanta must be pitiable in the extreme.—Our Macon contemporaries represent them as very destitute and forlorn. We reproduce some passages that have fallen under our eyes, with the view of prompting a spirit of charity towards them on the part of those who have the means. The Macon Confederacy of the 23rd says:

But there still remains in and about this city two hundred families who are without shelter.—Just think of it. Almost a thousand children exposed to the inclemency of the weather, and with scarcely food enough to eke out their miserable lives. The Mayor's Office is thronged with these unfortunate women daily, who with tears plead merely for bread that their little ones may not starve. To have the sympathy of the people of this city enlisted, we would recommend a walk amongst the cars where the exiles are still stopping. Destitute of home, money, food or strong arms to provide these things for them, they present a sickening aspect. Many of them have young babes at the breast. Some four or five were confined last week on the cars. In the name of justice, we beg the people to go to work and mitigate the circumstances of these people.

THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. V. RALEIGH, FRIDAY, SEPT. 30, 1864. NO. 176.

The Intelligencer makes the following practical suggestion:

This being the condition of affairs in this city and vicinity, it is suggested that the citizens, who have no definite homes provided, and, who are dependent on the assistance of our benevolent people, be removed to Southern Georgia, Florida and Alabama. That portion of the country abounds with provisions of all kinds, and there the most prominent difficulty will be disposed of. The country in that region is not subject to the rigorous changes of climate that makes the winters further north so very discomforting. In the region mentioned it is comparatively an easy matter to get houses, that will furnish shelter during the winter. Some of our acquaintances have built pole tents, and inform us that they are enjoying themselves very well, and expect to do so during the winter, which they say is sufficiently mild and open to permit this method of life. The abundance and variety of all kinds of provisions in the South, should make that portion of the country a principal resort. Doubtless, by this time, too, the people themselves have learned to have and extend to the distressed the charities and kindness that Christianity demands. The selfish unkindness that once made some of our people neglect and despitefully abuse refugees, has come home with appalling and dreadful weight and caused a different feeling to diffuse itself through every grade of society.

At a public meeting held in Macon on Friday to take measures for the relief of the Atlanta refugees, between thirty and forty thousand dollars were raised on the spot. The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That a Committee consisting of ten be appointed by the Chairman to solicit and receive contributions of money and provisions to be placed in the hands of the Mayor, or for distribution among the destitute families who have been driven from their homes, or otherwise reduced to want by the casualties of the war.

Resolved, That the people of other communities are earnestly invited to co-operate with us in providing for the homeless exiles, who have been placed in our midst, by offering them if practicable, places of shelter, and contributions to supply their necessities.

[From the Conservative.]

Mr. Editor:—You will please publish the following extract from a letter just received from Lt S W Donnell, giving a list of the casualties, which occurred in Company C, 45th Regt N C T., in the battle of the 19th, near Winchester, Va., Lt S W Donnell, commanding:

How many thousands there are to whom the war has made the following lines appropriate:

MY BROTHER'S GRAVE

I've breathed no sigh, I've shed no tear,
Where brother takes his rest;
I've never knelt above the sod
That lies above his breast.

He sleeps afar from childhood's home,
'Mid strangers graves alone;
And they who pass that lonely mound
Report the word, "Unknown."

Unknown to them the mother's hopes
That centred once on him;
Unknown to them the sister's love,
Not death itself can dim.

Oh! could we but have closed his eyes,
Received his parting breath
And heard him speak one last good bye,
Before he slept in death.

It would have been a pleasure sad
To treasure up the scene;
A painful lesson fraught with good,
For memory's band to glean.

We ne'er can place the flowery wreath,
Embalmed with sorrow's tear,
To shed its fragrant sweetness there
Above the lost and dear.

Yet will the moonlight, soft and pure,
His couch with beauty lave;
And angels from their starry home,
Keep watch o'er Brother's Grave.

Raleigh, June 18, 1864.

TO THE CONSERVATIVE AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY.

[illegible]

We make an earnest appeal to our friends throughout the State to assist this enterprise to succeed. The proposition of the Progress, to appropriate its profits to the maintenance of the widows, orphans and the sick wants of disappointed creatures, and with bold Civil Liberty and the rights of the citizen above everything else. We shall continue to give a cordial support to all measures whether originated by the State or Confederate governments, that may be necessary to a vigorous prosecution of the war, but we shall in the same time insist that the means coming through their constituted authorities, and the Confederate States government, acting through its legitimate agents, under executive, current, resident efforts to close the war by negotiation upon terms honorable and satisfactory to all the people of all the States. We are the friends of the Confederate cause and of free government, and as such shall insist on a strict construction of the Constitution, a searching investigation into the official conduct of our rulers, the independence of the Judiciary, freedom of the Press and of speech and the party and perfect freedom of the ballot box, without which, all our sufferings and sacrifices of blood and treasure, will amount to nothing, as the south will have to bow in receive the yoke at last. We shall insist on the Military power being kept in subordination to the Civil Authority, and that the struggle be continued with the common enemy of the North for the perpetuation of Self Government for the people of these States, and not for the establishment of a consolidated despotism.

Because we have refused to bend the knee to the behests of power and blindly approve and applaud all the official acts of State and Confederate authorities, a systematic effort has been made to strike us down and silence us, by the withholding of that patronage to which every paper of respectable circulation has ever been by common consent, entitled, and which no administration, State or national, has ever before withheld; but relying upon the intelligence and liberality of the people and the final triumph of right, truth and justice, we remain undismayed and defiant, and will continue to stand up and contend for the sovereignty of the States, Civil Liberty and the rights of the citizen, to the consequences to us what they may. The bulk of the patronage of the government, State and Confederate, is given to the partisan presses, regardless of interest or circulation; while some of the most widely circulated and influential journals of the country are entirely ignored. We mention these things partly for the purpose of calling attention to systematic favoritism, abuses and corruptions that exist; to show the people how all power and patronage is passing into the hands of a small privileged class; and partly by way of appeal to our friends to make up in increased circulation what we lose by this course of officials—a prescription which is unfit to us and insulting to them.

ARMY INTELLIGENCE.

Now that the elections are over we shall devote most of our space to Army News and Current Intelligence, and trust that our friends in the army and throughout the State will give us such assistance as may be in their power by furnishing us with short news letters from their respective localities. We shall spare neither labor or expense to make the Progress equal to any paper in the Confederacy as a medium for news from the army and elsewhere.

A FEW IMPORTANT FACTS

IN REGARD TO

THE "SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS."

1. They are prepared from the best quality of Medicine by the discoverer, now an aged Minister of the Gospel, and are safe.

2. They have been known for years and tested by thousands.

3. Five hundred persons are known to have been cured by them.

4. They are not recommended by the proprietor for everything, but only for diseases which arise from disordered livers.

5. Directions and certificates accompany each box and these certificates are from well known and most respectable individuals.

6. Correspondents recommend them as good for Liver Disease, Chills and Fever, Pneumonia, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Bilious Fevers, Bilious Rheumatism, Worms, Pleurisy, Bronchitis, &c.

7. Several gentlemen state that the use of these Pills has been to them an annual saving of from $100 to $200; they are the best plantation medicine ever offered to the public.

8. Some Physicians of the highest standing prescribe them to their patients, and hundreds of boxes have been sold to regular practitioners.

9. During the last quarter 2,000 boxes have been sold to Druggists, one in South Carolina, and one in North Carolina—and some time ago over 2,000 boxes were ordered by Druggists in one town in Virginia.

☞ Price, $3 a box. For $30 a dozen boxes will be sent to any address. A very liberal discount to Druggists and country merchants. Cash (new currency) to accompany orders.

FRENCH BROAD LANDS FOR SALE.

GLEN CANNON FARM, TRANSYLVANIA COUNTY, N. C.

THIS FARM LIES ON THE FRENCH BROAD RIVER, within five miles of Brevard, the county town, and is extensively known as the best tract of land, and the most productive property in the county, and probably in Western North Carolina. In salubrity of climate, beauty of scenery, location and fertility of soil, it is unsurpassed by any property in the State. It consists of 1,370 acres of land, 400 of which are first quality French Broad bottom, all of which, with the exception of 40 or 50 acres, are cleared and under a high state of cultivation, thoroughly drained and excellent fences, most of which are new lath fencing on locust posts. 2,675 bushels of corn were gathered from 20 acres of this land with ordinary cultivation and without any fertilizer over having been applied to it. Ninety acres are laid down in the most approved mode, to the grasses and afford heavy crops of hay and excellent pasturage. The balance of the tract, say 970 acres, is the heaviest and best timbered mountain land.

The whole tract is under one boundary and may be subdivided advantageously, there being four very eligible and beautiful building sites, with bottom land attached.

On the premises is a good cottage residence, of five rooms, each with a fire place, kitchen, servant houses, ice house, storeroom, dairy, smokehouse, framed cornerib, capacity, 3,500 bushels ear corn, one double and five single negro houses, two tenant settlements, an excellent saw and grist mill, all built within thirteen years by the proprietor. The saw mill is driven by an overshot wheel of 28 feet in diameter, and is located at one of the most beautiful water falls of about 100 feet in height and equal to 150 horse power, and only fifteen minutes walk from the residence.

This property for this year is under rent to General Smith, of East Tennessee, who will give any information desired during the absence of the proprietor.

The price of these lands is (150,000) one hundred and sixty thousand dollars. Payment may be made in Confederate stock at the market value at Columbia, S. C., at time of sale.

With the above property can be purchased twelve remarkably prime and orderly negroes, being a picked gang accustomed to the culture of the farm in the most careful and cleanly style. Among them are four men, three women and five children. The men are excellent plowmen, mowers, cradlers, &c., one is a good carpenter. Of the women, one is an excellent cook and spinner. The children are from one to six years of age. Also the farm tools consisting in part of plows, harrows, horse rake, field roller, corn planters, sorgho mills, molasses boilers, corn sheller, straw cutters, timber carts, &c. Also the stock of highly improved cattle.

Address McK. JOHNSTONE,
Spartanburg, S. C.

N. B.—I think I can take the liberty with Judge R. M. Saunders and the Right Rev. Bishop Atkinson, of offering them as references in regard to the value, &c., of my farm.

I have a considerable lot of lumber and 30,000 shingles on hand.

I will take $200,000 for the land, negroes, stock, farming tools, lumber, &c., or will sell separately.
